Rhead Group Celebrates 25 Years

Warwick Castle was the prestigious venue chosen by the privately owned Rhead Group, for a client event to celebrate the company's successful growth over the last quarter of a century.

With a successful reputation working in the global oil and gas sectors, Alan Rhead had a vision to set up a business based on his specialist technical experience to provide sound commercial skills and capabilities to main works contractors and clients working in these sectors.

Alan founded the Rhead Group in 1985 and today the company is managing a portfolio of engineering programmes worth in excess of £4bn from offices as far afield as South Africa, Singapore and the Middle East. Rhead Group is recognised all over the world as one of the leading professional services consultancies supporting major international construction programmes in the energy, transport, water, power generation, air and maritime sectors.

The anniversary event was hosted by the board of directors. Now Chairman, Mr Rhead gave a brief presentation to the clients and highlighted some of the major milestones of the company over its 25 year history. He especially acknowledged several clients who had been served by the Group since its inception.

During the celebrations, Managing Director, Andrew Ferguson toasted Mr Rhead's achievement of establishing a culture that, from the outset, focused on delivering client satisfaction and providing a rewarding and challenging career for all employees. "This platform and philosophy is what has differentiated our business and made it the success it is today. It is why our teams and our clients choose to stay with us year after year. I am delighted to have been part of the company's evolution for many of these very special 25 years," commented Mr Ferguson.

The event was attended by 80 guests including clients and industry representatives. Ian Gordon, Director of Dutco McConnell Dowell commented: "It is a delight to be here celebrating with Alan and the Rhead team tonight. They have proven time and time again to be superb at what they do and a great team to work with. They've worked hard to get where they are today and I know that all the clients here tonight are delighted to be part of these very special celebrations."
